

Saintjohn225.com Goes Live!

Saint John – Canada’s original city – is raising the curtain (and roof) on a year of performances, festivals and events to celebrate its 225th anniversary.

Visit the website - www.saintjohn225.com is the best way to find out about Saint John 225. The site features:

- The Saint John 225 Calendar of Events will list all arts, culture and heritage events in the Saint John region. Post your events on the calendar by visiting the site;
- E-news, Facebook page, Twitter and RSS feeds will keep you up to date on the arts and culture scene in Saint John;
- Showcase section will profile local arts, culture and heritage groups and activities biweekly;
- Invite Saint John 225 mascot Art to your place. Art is popping up all over the Saint John region and wherever Art goes, fun and creative things are sure to happen. Saint John area groups, institutions and businesses can register online as a potential Where's Art venue.

Come meet Art on Friday at the first Gallery Hop of 2010!

Art is the Saint John 225 master of ceremonies, a fun-loving cultural explorer who will be popping up around the city throughout 2010 – and wherever Art is, entertainment and creativity are sure to follow.

Art will promote local arts, culture and heritage performances and creations in non-traditional spaces such as schools, industrial sites, shopping malls, supermarkets, hospitals, seniors’ homes and public parks.

Keep your eyes and ears open for Art – and discover Saint John’s creative streak!

Saint John 225 is the official anniversary celebrations of the City of Saint John and its incorporation as Canada's original city. Saint John and its anniversary celebrations were designated a 2010 Cultural Capitals of Canada by the Canadian Heritage Minister in August 2009. For more information – info@saintjohn225.com
